ADP's ASP Access Services

Part of the infrastructure solution of Web-Enabled Business.

PROVIDING HIGH-SPEED, COST-EFFECTIVE CONNECTIVITY

ASP Access Services provides high-speed reliable connectivity between the dealer location(s) and the ADP Data Center to ensure that you have access to Dealer Management Systems (DMS) applications.

Data Center Connectivity: Primary high-speed frame relay circuit or VPN Internet circuit provides consistent and reliable data center connectivity and access to dealership data. Circuit size is based on specific needs of each dealership location. Flexible solution that is cost effective and easy to expand as dealership needs change.

Backup Connectivity: A VPN backup connection is provided via the dealer's existing Internet circuit, when available. Not only are you protected, but your expenses are minimized by using your existing internet circuit.

Service Provider Relationships: We have established relationships with leading communications and networking service providers and leveraged the purchasing power of nationwide ADP agreements to obtain the best service and manage costs. You won't have to deal with multiple vendors who don't want to take responsibility for a problem. As part of the complete ASP Managed Services, ADP's IT professionals monitor circuits and resolve problems for you.

Network Monitoring: EnterpriseObserverSM, ADP's network monitoring tool, is used by ADP personnel to ensure that all circuits between the data center and the dealer location(s) are reliable and secure.

Flexible Options Based On Your Specific Needs:

- If you have multiple locations, we can provide circuits to all locations and completely manage all service issues.
- If you prefer, we can provide one circuit connecting a single dealership location to the ASP Data Center and you can procure and manage all remote location connections.

Manufacturer Connectivity: Manufacturer Dealer Communications System (DCS) integration is included in the overall ASP Managed Services. A flexible solution, ASP manufacturer connectivity can be designed to meet specific and changing manufacturer requirements.

With redundant connections, 24/7 monitoring and complete customizability, your connection to ADP's Data Center will provide the highest level of system availability and flexibility based on the specific needs of your dealership.

At ADP, we provide high-speed reliable connectivity to help you keep your business moving.
